Summer 2014

From the Potter's Wheel

Since last newsletter I have made a pretty big decision. I am closing the retail shop in Dickson. It was June of 1997 that I opened the Gammel House. Green behind the ears with big dreams and lots of energy. 17 summers the Gammel House has been open to the public. My business and work have grown and developed much along the way. When I first built the attached studio in the fall of 1999 it was huge and I was very excited to be able to move out of our basement. I'm now moving to a studio that is 3 times the size of the current one and does not have a retail gallery space. Without a gallery it is my plan to host two outdoor "Festival" like shows a year, likely to be held at the Danish Canadian museum in Dickson. One in June and the other in October. With less responsibility

I will be better able to focus on our website, newsletters, ETSY, Craft shows as well as new stores to carry my work. Change is good and I'm looking forward to a little more freedom, creativity and new challenges. Our last day open in Dickson will be Sunday August 31st. Thanks to all of you who have stopped and visited my little shop in Dickson.

Sincerely,
 Anna

Gammel House YARD SALE

August 22nd & 23rd

I will be having a garage sale to sell off lots of my pottery plaster molds, extra tools, a small slab roller, plate setters, display fixtures, some seconds, stuff I'm not interested in moving to the new studio.

Inquires welcome.

Gammel House Gallery

The Gammel House is located in the Hamlet of Dickson, Alberta, West of Innisfail on highway #54 to Spruce View turn South 2 miles to Dickson. The shop is located on this road, two doors north of the Dickson Store Museum (the hamlet is small so you won't miss it.)
